- Good critical thinking processes don't just look at causes, they look at consequences as well. A great tool for thinking through the consequences of an action is the 7 So What's. The 7 So What's force you to go from an early answer to think through all the possible implications and future consequences of your action. Let me offer an example. Let's say we have a situation where we're going to ...

The issue here is not so much that he got something wrong, but that he is capable of presenting a theory in all seriousness that gives results that are so far from reality without even stopping to notice. If you're trying to present a theory that's supposed to represent reality, surely you would ensure that you (a) understand what your answers mean, and (b) take every opportunity to compare ...

I highly recommend painter's tape too! I'm not an OT (though contemplating a return to school for it), but I do a lot of OT type activities in my various roles with kids as an aware mom/nanny/preschool teacher/etc. Painter's tape doesn't leave residue allowing me to use it on the floor for boundary lines for activities/games, walking (skipping, etc) on lines, jumping over, etc.
