"It's not the heat, it's the humidity!" Have you ever heard someone say that on a warm, muggy day? As you'll see soon, there's a lot of truth in that statement. Likewise, very low humidity can make us feel cooler than the actual temperature. This happens because the dry air helps sweat evaporate ...

As a follow-up to Tuesday's post about the majority-minority public schools in Oslo, the following brief account reports the latest statistics on the cultural enrichment of schools in Austria. Vienna is the most fully enriched location, and seems to be in roughly the same situation as Oslo. Many thanks to Hermes for the translation from Unzensuriert.at:

I think most of us will agree that the medical community is just a tad behind when it comes to fully understanding celiac disease symptoms. We have heard plenty of doctor horror stories to attest to this.. And the internet can make things just as confusing.

Carbohydrates, and the role they play in a healthy diet, are one of the most hotly contested nutritional debates in the world, both in conventional and ancestral health circles. On one side, you've got folks who say that carbohydrates are nonessential and increase your risk for diseases such as diabetes, cancer, and neurological disorders.
